Presentation:

Tom Grant of Hubbell, Roth and Clark will present an overview of Delhi Township Publicly Owned Treatment Works' (POTW) new Integrated Biomass to Energy System (IBES). This 2008 EPA PISCES award winning project is comprised of a new anaerobic digestion process that includes electricity generation and heat recovery from the biogas byproduct of the digestion process. This project is the first full-scale (non-pilot) project in Michigan to uniquely and symbiotically combine two previously proven technologies with the goal of cost-effectively producing Class A biosolids. A tour of the new system will follow the presentation.
